- 25X1 7. [] the Shanghai-Woosung Garrison Headquarters was reorganized and renamed the Public Security Headquarters of the East China Military District Command. All Public Security troops in the district were placed under its command, in addition to the former personnel of the Shanghai-Woosung Garrison. KUO Hua-jo (郭化若) is the commanding officer of this new headquarters.
- 25X1 8. [] there were two anti-aircraft guns about 150 feet from the north end of the Chungtangchiang (120-, 30-) Bridge (sic), and four anti-aircraft guns about 50 feet from the South end of the bridge.
- 25X1 9. [] the 61, 62, and 63 Divisions, 21 Army, were ordered to transfer to Shanghai from Linhai (121-07, 28-53) and Huangyen (121-15, 28-41). The Linhai-Huangyen garrison duties were assigned to the CHOU P'ei-chen (周丕振)* Brigade, a Chekiang garrison unit with about 1,000 poorly equipped men.
- 25X1 10. [] about 46,000 tons of rice was shipped from Shanghai in civilian vessels. This rice was to be for army use and was allegedly bound for Ningpo, but the ships stopped at Ch'ungming (121-26, 31-38).
- 25X1 * [] Comment. [] the 1 Regiment of the South Chekiang Garrison Brigade was an irregular local unit under CHOU P'ei-tou (周丕涛). Possibly P'ei-chen and P'ei-tou are brothers. 25X1
- 25X1  [] Comment. Possibly this rice was transferred northward from Ch'ungming.
- 25X1 [] Comment. [] recent rice shipments in the Central and South China Military District. 25X1
